

plant type

- native trees and shrubs

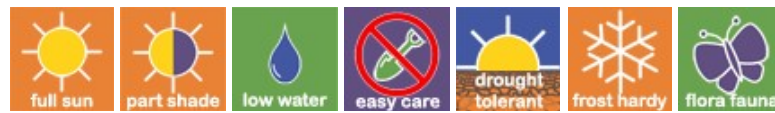

water hardiness

Eucalyptus sideroxylon

red Ironbark, mugga

A medium sized tree growing to 30m in height. The thick, fibrous bark is deeply furrowed and black on the outer surface, showing a deep red-brown in the furrows. Narrow pendant grey-blue foliage and profuse white, cream, pink or red flowers.

top ten

bird attracting

origin NSW, Vic, Qld.

project type

urban and commercial residential farm forestry and agriculture cultural notes Adaptable to a range of climates and well drained soils. Prefers full sun or part shade.

tolerates Tolerant of drought and frost.

flowering season Winter and Spring.

flower colour The flowers occur in clusters and are white, cream, pink or red in colour.

soil type and drainage

light - sandy soils
medium - loamy soils
good drainage

foliage colour The leaves are grey-green in colour, lance-shaped and sometimes slightly curved.

width up to 8m

height up to 30m

plant spacing 300cm apart recommended uses A good shade tree suitable for medium to large sized gardens and parks. Attracts birds and bees.

plant image credits

HelloMojo